

Eugene McAllister

1925 - 2005

Honesty, integrity, courage and determination took Mr. McAllister from the Battle of the Bulge during WWII to the oilfields of Kansas. He worked for White and Ellis Drilling Company for 31 years achieving the post of Toolpusher and Drilling Superintendent. In 1980, he realized his dream and founded McAllister Drilling Company. Work ethic, knowledge and tenacity are legacies that continue to inspire those fortunate enough to have known him.
